Nature

Flóahreppur is a peaceful municipality situated in South Iceland, between the two large Salmon Rivers Hvítá and Þjórsá. Flóahreppur is famous for its wide panorama view in all directions, range of mountains, glaciers and islands. In the area is Iceland's most voluminous Waterfall Urriðafoss, where Þjórsá River falls off the margin of Þjórsárhraun a Lava Field that came about 8.000 years ago and is one of the largest known Lava-flows anywhere on Earth.

Flóahreppur is a paradise for people who love nature and bird-watching. In Flóahreppur you will also find variety of recreational possibilities and services. Culture in the area has historical deep roots and great emphasis is placed on the preservation of cultural heritage.

The people of Flóahreppur welcomes you to experience our heritage, beautiful and peaceful environment, but first and foremost the wonders of Flóahreppur.
